MDCCCLXXVI.

FEAR OF RIDICULE, FALSE MODESTY.

MANY a man is now quietly ruminating in solitude, and uselessly regretting he has not summoned up courage hitherto to consult me. Diffidence, false modesty, and often fear of ridicule, are, with regret, the statements made to me, as chiefly preventing patients from consulting me.

Many a now wretched life would have been made happy, many a pleasing home with troops of smiling children, would have taken the place of the hearth which is now desolate, had I but been consulted in time.

Many a young life has been wrecked on the rocks of despair. I ask often an unfortunate being why he did not consult me before, and I find the invariable heart-bursting response, "Oh, Doctor, why was I held back by a false feeling of shame? Had I but consulted you in time, I should now be a happy, healthful man. What am I now, but an object of pity!"

Again, with regard to Skin Affections, the same illustration applies. Many of these terrible chronic eruptions would never have occurred, had early skilful treatment been applied.

Those who have locked up within their breasts a secret, cankering their very lives, and wish to avail themselves of my skill in the treatment of their maladies, must remember that "old time is a-flying," and that I shall not be much longer in practice, for I have done the state some service in my profession, and I shall not therefore, be long before I take my rest; therefore there is little time to lose, for those who wish to profit by my skill and experience.

Let nothing in the shape of bashfulness, therefore, deter the one seeking medical skill, from consulting me at once, ere it be too late. Those who do not care for a personal consultation, can communicate with me by letter.

prizes when 3 years old, and was then purchased by John Linton, Esq., of Westwick Hall, Cambridgeshire, for the sum of 700 guineas. Old England's Glory was considered by competent judges to be one of the best cart stallions in England. Smiler's dam was the celebrated prize Lincoln cart mare Black Diamond, bred and owned by John Linton, Esq., Westwick Hall. She took 23 first prizes in the following counties, viz. :—Seven first prizes in Lincolnshire; six first prizes in Cambridgeshire; six first prizes in Norfolk; and four first prizes in Huntingdonshire, and never was beaten. Smiler was also bred by John Linton, Esq., and purchased at a high figure, when one year old, by John Taiplow, Esq., Smart's Lane, Chattress, Huntingdon. She gained first prize as a yearling at Peterborough, first prize as a two-year old, and first prize as a three-year old in a field of 14 others, and first last year at Peterborough. Her progeny has also realized very high prices, viz. :—a two year old colt of hers, purchased by Robert Heir, Esq., Fenstanton, for the sum of 400 guineas; also, a three-year old filly, purchased by Mr. William Hoper, of Peterborough, for the sum of 160 guineas; thus showing Smiler to be the best strain of cart stock blood in England.

- 1262 1 A Horse Brush and Clipping Machine

A HORSE BRUSH AND CLIPPING MACHINE.—The brush part explains itself, and is expected, in England and America, in which countries it has been very lately brought out, to be of great use in saving labour, where many horses have to be cleaned in a limited space of time; as also in removing scurf from the skins of animals being stall-fed for exhibition. The essential difference between this and the machines made elsewhere is, that in this the motion is given through the medium of a flexible, noiseless, connection, while with the others motion is conveyed through a series of jointed rods, more or less noisy, and causing a considerable loss of power. The clipping implement is the first of the kind made, and, with some modification, will be suitable for shearing sheep. The same sort of flexible connection, specially planned in the first instance for a shearing machine, will answer in both cases, but for the latter purpose the motion will have to be taken from a horizontal shaft over the table on which the sheep are to be shorn.
