WELCOME

JACK SEYMOUR, president of the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria

WELCOME to the 2005 Royal Melbourne Show.

We are celebrating our 150th Royal Show and it marks the start of a new era.

The historic Showgrounds are undergoing redevelopment in a joint venture with the Victorian Government, but this will only add to the colour and excitement of the 11 days and provide visitors with a special preview of how the site will look for next year's show.

The show this year has been adapted to the modified site yet everything is still displayed to advantage.

It offers opportunities to experience the best Victoria has to offer in Rural Life, Animals, Fun and Learning, Taste and Style, Carnival and Entertainment — the six worlds that make up one great show.

The show looks different and some elements are at new locations, but everything visitors know and love is there.

More than 10,000 animals are on show and in competition plus a showbag of the best entertainment, including the Madagascar Pantomime (with characters from the Madagascar movie), Rocketman, the Human Cannonball and great rock-stage performers.

All the show pavilions are there, including the Government Expo, Safeway Fresh Food Pavilion, Weekly Times Victorian Agribusiness Pavilion, the Showcase, the Dairy Pavilion, the Leisure and Lifestyle Pavilion and the new Sports and Leisure Pavilion.

Look for the new Woodchop Stadium and the relocated National Australia Bank Animal Nursery, close to the Wonderful World of Pets and the Rural Pavilion with its intriguing array of products.

There is so much to see and do. Join the celebrations at another truly great show that brings country and city together.

Through the ages: 2005 signifies a new era for the Show, as well as marking 150 years of tradition.

Showgrounds go full circle

A message from Premier
Steve Bracks

THIS is the 150th year Victorians have shared in the wonderful tradition of the Royal Melbourne Show.

Since 1885, Victorians from across the state have gathered to proudly display their finest produce and enjoy the festivities.

Though 2005 marks a significant historic milestone, it also signifies the beginning of a new era for the Melbourne Showgrounds.

Demolition work has begun to clear the way for the biggest redevelopment in its history.

The State Government is proud of its $108 million investment towards the upgrade, in partnership with the Royal Agricultural Society, creating a world-class venue for all Victorians.

The redevelopment will see a

Grand Pavilion enclosed under a big top, a town square, revitalised main entrance and boulevard, new exhibition space and an outdoor animal competition area.

Yet though the historic site will be under redevelopment, it will be business as usual for the 2005 Royal Melbourne Show.

This year's event will continue to offer the range of show events and activities that have made it one of Victoria's most popular occasions.

On behalf of the State Government, I wish the Royal Melbourne Show a happy 150th birthday and encourage all Victorians to join the celebrations.

150 YEARS OF MEMORIES

MOST of us have clear early memories of the Royal Melbourne Show — it's an integral part of a Victorian's childhood.

The Show marks the beginning of spring and for many it represents special firsts as a child — the first time we got up close to a farm animal, rode on a ferris wheel or bought a show bag.

The memories can seem like only yesterday. So it is hard to believe that this year the Show celebrates its 150th birthday.

The first Show was in 1848 and began as a ploughing competition in Moonee Ponds (left). Gradually, the range of exhibitions and competitions expanded until the Show developed its own character.

At the heart of the event was woodchopping, the grand parade, stunt exhibitions, food and a celebration of agricultural heritage.

The arrival of all things bush has retained its central place — the Show is one of our most important rural exhibitions.

It is also a place where people get back to basics, understanding where food comes from and celebrating its roots. That may be through the cattle

Find the treasure

FOLLOW the Show treasure hunt trail for great value — and your chance to win a family ticket to the 2006 Commonwealth Games opening ceremony.

Discover more than $40 worth of "treasure", ranging from health food to novelty items, as you follow the treasure-hunt map across the Showgrounds.

Along the way you'll have the chance to pick up some prizes, visit pavilions and get a preview of the Showgrounds redevelopment.

Treasure hunt items include Madagascar merchandise, pet treats and photographs.

Don't forget to call in at The Weekly Times Victorian Agribusiness Showcase pavilion for a free copy of Australia's most popular rural newspaper.

Inside is a colour-magazine tribute to our Anzac heroes.

Joining the treasure hunt is easy. Look for outlets with treasure hunt signage.

For $13, you'll receive a reusable treasure hunt bag and map. And here's a bonus for Herald Sun readers. Look for the discount coupon daily in the Herald Sun during the Show to get $1 off your entry to the treasure hunt.

Buy treasure hunt tickets at Ticketek outlets at the gate, treasure hunt outlets and information booths at the VRC and dairy entrance.

All rise for the queen of scones

NOELA MacLeod and her band of volunteers are among the Show's most popular characters. They churn out the scones that have been a mainstay of the Show for decades.

Noela, president of the Country Women's Association, says the organisation has made scones, breakfasts, lunches and dinners for show patrons for about 70 years.

So popular are the scones that volunteers produce up to 2000 a day. The recipe has changed slightly over the years.

"We used to use butter and now we use cream because it makes the scones lighter," Noela says.

"People say they haven't tasted scones this good since their mother made them."

Boom time

Grand celebrations including cannonball stunts will mark the 150th Show

WITH a human cannonball, the Rocketman, monster trucks and characters from the movie Madagascar Live, this year's Show will be like no other.

More than 10,000 animals will be on display and in competition and the grounds' giant fun park will feature Australia's largest dodgem track and slide.

The 2005 Show — over 11 days from September 15 — will also introduce a bounce-back ticket offer allowing visitors to return for greatly reduced prices.

The children's entertainment line-up will be led by the Madagascar Pantomime with daily performances in its own big top.

American stuntman Dan Schlund, aka the Rocketman, will soar above the grandstands every day and human cannonball Stephanie Smith (far right) will boom through the air.

The Monster Truck will return for more crushing action and younger showgoers can watch the daring Showtime FMX MotoX riders.

An added attraction will be the Planet X crew, who will present a series of skateboard coaching sessions and BMX stunt shows.

Australia's Federation Guard drill team will go through its paces on the first three days of the Show.

With a redevelopment of the grounds under way, the layout has been adapted and several major attractions have moved.

Check the show map for the new sites for the NAB Animal Nursery, the Wonderful World of Pets, the Government

Expo, the woodchop stadium and the main showbags pavilion. The modified Show site and tighter competition timetables mean changes have been made to horse events, too.

Showjumping, camp drafting and novelty events will be postponed to 2006. Grand Parades are unable to be held this year. But major championships and classes such as the Garryowen and Clydesdales will be staged on the Coca-Cola Arena. All other horse events will be at the upgraded Western Arena.

More than half a million people are expected to attend this year's Show.

Pavilions will include the Safeway Fresh Food Pavilion, Rural Life World featuring The Weekly Times Agribusiness Pavilion, the Victorian Showcase Dairy Pavilion, the Leisure and Lifestyle Pavilion and the new Sports and Leisure Pavilion.

The Show will be open from 10am to 10pm daily, except for the first day (Sept 15) when it closes at 6pm, and the final day (Sept 25) when the Show closes at 8pm.

Admission prices remain unchanged for the third year in a row and specials include a family ticket, reduced prices after 5pm and the bounce-back offer.

MONSTER TRUCKS & MOTO X RIDERS

When: Sept 15-25
Where: The Coca-Cola Arena
Map ref: J4

SHOWGROUNDS staff took a while to clear the wreckage from last year's car-crushing mayhem created by Sampson the monster truck.

The giant metal beast returns to the Show this year and is ready to send more family sedans to the scrap heap.

Sampson, standing 3m tall, is powered by a Supercharged 454 Chevy engine. Formerly a Toyota Hilux Ute, it has been converted into a car-crushing giant by four-time Australian mud-racing champion Sam Xerub.

"I can't wait to get back to the Showgrounds and continue the mayhem from last year," Xerub says.

"It was our first public outdoor performance in Melbourne and the atmosphere was electric.

"We know what the crowd loves and we're ready to give them a lot more this year," he says.

In the past six years Xerub and his truck have embarked on a campaign in which they've smashed their way through dozens of cars.

SHOWTIME FMX YAMAHA FREESTYLE TEAM

WATCH two of Australia's best freestyle moto-x riders defy the laws of gravity as they twist, loop and spin their bikes 12m in the air.

Using two specially designed ramps 24m apart, the two will thrill crowds with their trademark tricks, including the Can Can, the Lazy Boy and the Heart Attack.

Listen for the announcer's call when he introduces a stunt called the Rock Solid, one of the most breathtaking freestyle moto-x tricks, in which the rider jumps off the back of the bike and back on again before coming down to earth.

Smashing good time: Sam Xerub (top) will be sending more family sedans to the scrapheap with his 3m monster truck.

Issi Dye will be back to showcase jazz, rock and swing and the Screaming Cockatoos will have you moving to some great rockabilly tunes.

The Centre Stage Big Band will perform on September 18, from 2-4pm, and the Stella Maris College Concert Band on September 20, from 2-4pm.

Cannonball fun

Master blaster: Stephanie Smith is one of few women to master the human cannonball.

HUMAN CANNONBALL

When: Sept 15-25
Where: Coca-Cola Arena
Map ref: J4

IMAGINE going to work and getting fired every day. That's what happens to Stephanie Smith, one of a few women who have mastered the dangerous art of being fired from an 8m cannon into a net 40m away.

Smith, known as the cannon lady, was only 14 when she first attempted the stunt.

But the feat came as no surprise to her family — she comes from a long line of human cannonballs.

Smith's father, David, holds the Guinness world record for distance (65m) and her brother, David Jr, has shot out across part of the Grand Canyon, and her sister Jennifer performs the stunt, too.

"My father, a former gymnast and trapeze artist, built a cannon 28 years ago and shot himself out of it. We still ask him why to this day," Smith, an American, says.

Landing can be dangerous, and members of the Smith family have had broken bones and concussion.

Smith says operating the cannon also requires nerves of steel because anything can happen when the firing mechanism is activated.

Did you know?

- A human cannonball can travel up to 20km an hour.

- It takes less than a second for the human cannonball to shoot out of the barrel.

- The way it operates is a secret.

Rocket man

ROCKETMAN

When: Sept 15-25
Where: Coca-Cola Arena
Map ref: J4

LOOK towards the heavens in September and you'll see more than clouds and planes — Rocketman may be in the sky.

Dan Schlund, aka the Rocketman, will hover above the showgrounds, displaying sweeping turns, pirouettes and an ability to hover like a bird.

The 600kW Rocketbelt he wears can produce speeds of up to 75km an hour and heights of up to 1000m.

The belt is a creation of space-age technology. Two rocket nozzles fed by a central generator are controlled by the pilot's right hand to provide the lift.

"Jetavators" are controlled by the pilot's left hand and the combination of the two controls provides freedom of flight.

The belt rides on a bed of superheated steam.

Schlund has appeared on The Late Show with David Letterman and at the Daytona 500 and the 1984 Los Angeles Olympic Games.

The American stuntman tours countries regularly.

Blast off: the Rocketman wears a belt to propel him 1000m in the air.

Cultural harmony

HARMONY ON SHOW

When: Sept 22
Where: Gold Rock Stage
Map ref: N7

ENJOY the sounds, colours and costumes of our rich cultural diversity when you join in the celebrations of Harmony on Show.

The event will provide a great opportunity to see some of Australia's cultural diversity and share the experience of living in a multicultural society.

Harmony on Show is part of the government's Living in Harmony initiative, designed to promote our unique cultural tapestry through musical and dance performances plus a Koori welcoming ceremony.

High-flier: Robbie Marshall dazzles on the Main Arena.

Up and away: Luke Weatherall shows how it's done during a display at the Show.

Each trained Planet X coach can teach beginners to advanced how to flip, spin and grind their way around the skate park.

Sessions run every hour from 10am to 5pm and are held on the street-style mini ramp course.

Coaches will also instruct on techniques for falling, looking after your equipment and performing tricks correctly.

Meet Games competitors

DON'T miss the Melbourne 2006 Commonwealth Games activity zone at the Show.

It's in the Sports Pavilion, where you will get the chance to meet Games athletes, say hello to Karak the Games mascot, buy Games' merchandise, win spot prizes and pick up a Melbourne 2006 Treasure Hunt item.

An information booth will help you to find out anything you need to know about the Games coming to Victoria.

More Games tickets go on sale on October 15.

Commanding performance

AUSTRALIA'S FEDERATION GUARD

When: Sept 16-18
Where: The Coca-Cola Arena
Map ref: J4

Salute: Australia's Federation Guard.

COMPRISED navy, army and air-force personnel, Australia's Federation Guard will showcase the talents of the Australian Defence Force with performances to celebrate the Show's 150th birthday. Since its launch in 2000, the guard has performed at Gallipoli, the House Guards at Buckingham Palace, the Centenary of Federation celebrations and the anniversary of the fall of Singapore.

The acclaimed precision drill team will feature in the performances, accompanied by the guard's drum corp.

Unlike most other parades, the drill team will perform their movements without the benefit of words of command.

The performance is instinctive and perfected through hours of practice.

Before marching off the Coca-Cola Arena, the Federation Guard will fire off a succession of rounds in a triangular formation.

SHOW MEMORIES

KYLE VANDER-KUYP,

Australian hurdles champion

We always went as a family on the train and we always had a list of showbags we had to buy. The yearly outing was a special treat in my family and we always a great day. I remember the chair-lift ride, seeing the animals and coming home with lots of lollies. My most memorable moments were seeing Mum on the scary rides.

LOUDY TOURKY

Olympic diver

Going to the Show brings out the child in me. The rides are still scary, but I wouldn't miss them for the world. I love the animals and the showbags and fairy-floss, but don't tell my coach. It's the time of the year when the weather is getting warmer and everyone is smiling. These days I take my nephews and I am not sure who enjoys it more.

ONE OF the most popular pavilions is in a new location at the western end of the Showgrounds with easy access from the VRC carpark entrance.

The National Australia Bank Animal Nursery is the place to find piglets, donkeys, foals, calves, chickens, ducks, puppies and other small farm animals.

Veterinary supervisors will explain labour and birthing to children, as well as answer their questions.

PATting AREA

LOTS of baby animals will be on display for children to pat and cuddle under the watchful eyes of supervisors. For many youngsters who live in the city, it's often the first time they get to see and touch piglets, calves, chickens and lambs.

FEED PREPARATION

CHILDREN can be part of the feeding process, learning about animal eating habits and nutritional requirements of animals in the nursery.

DEMONSTRATION AND STAGE AREA

EACH day demonstrations will take place, including cow and goat milking, working dog and shearing displays, animal talks and horse grooming, handling and care.

The demonstrations offer an educational experience in a friendly environment.

Storyteller John Bury will enchant you with tales from Australia's bush and colonial heritage. John's stories are a rare mix of fun and folklore.

John will be joined by author Sandy Thorne, who writes humorous stories about the Outback.

Since launching her first book on television by ripping the top off a stubbie with her teeth, Sandy has entertained audiences around the world.

Based on her own experiences as a jillaroo, bull-catcher and horse-breaker, her yarns about the toughness, wit and spirit of Australia's Outback will amaze and entertain.

Step back in time as you enter a typical colonial household with displays including hand-weaving, spinning and knitting.

Experience the traditional method of fleece being hand woven and turned into yarn and the elegance and skill of woodturning.

Find out how orphaned and injured animals are cared for by Wildlife Victoria and talk to students who will tell you what it takes to pursue a career in animal technology or vet nursing.

FIND A PUP

PEDIGREE World's Selectadog computers will help you find the most suitable breed of dog for you, and you can pat and play with the dogs in the puppy creche. Different breeds of pups will feature daily and all your dog questions can be answered by Pedigree's vet, Karminda Row.

presence of dogs around the home and in the street. This Department of Primary Industries program aims to minimise the likelihood of dog bites and provide information on responsible dog and cat ownership. Throughout the day children will get hands-on instruction and practice by approaching and patting docile dogs. Free attractions for children include educational games and activities, face painting, henna tattoos and stage performances by mascots Victor the dog and Victoria the Cat.

DETECTOR DOGS

DON'T be surprised if nosy little beagles hover around you at the airport if you have anything in your luggage that shouldn't be there.

If they find food, exotic pests or diseases that are of quarantine concern, the beagles will happily sit down and wait for a food reward from their handlers.

It's known as the Passive Response Program and suits busy airport environments, because the dogs are calm and gentle around people.

The dogs are trained to sniff out about 30 different quarantine items and there will be a 30-minute show each weekday.

DAILY APPEARANCES

INFORMATIVE and entertaining sessions will cover topics ranging from pet care to pet selection, and demonstrations will include reptile shows, responsible pet ownership, Whiskas, Pedigree and daily appearances from Jess, the lovable show mascot.

WANYIP'S MAGICAL MYSTICAL GARDEN
When: Sept 15-25
Where: Pioneer Village

CHILDREN are involved in the Show in all sorts of ways.

In fact, lots of budding little greenfingers have been busy preparing garden beds in time for this year's Show.

To encourage environmental awareness, children from Victorian primary schools -- with the help of characters Wanyip, Groovy Granny and Arthur -- have made decorative items for the garden bed using a range of recycled materials.

Each school has designed and made a scarecrow, which will be judged by 3AW's Jane Edmanson on September 17 when the Magical Mystical Garden winner will be announced.

MAKE A WISH

YOUNGSTERS can make their own wand and help the Make a Wish Foundation reach its goal of 600 wishes for the year.

The foundation, which brings magic and joy to children with life-threatening illnesses by granting their most-cherished wishes, is celebrating its 20th anniversary this year.

All materials to make the wands will be supplied and staff will be on hand to supervise and help with the creativity.

Cost is $2 and all proceeds go to the Make-a-Wish Foundation.

DOING THE RIGHT THING AWARD

SAVING water, gardening and conserving energy are some of the initiatives adopted by schools in the Royal Agricultural Society of Victoria's recycling and gardening program.

The Doing the Right Thing Award recognises the efforts schools make to take care of the environment.

Monthly winners of the awards will have representatives at the Show, eagerly awaiting the announcement of the winner on September 15.

Students must answer questions to have their passport stamped and receive items to put in their trail bag.

The experience of the trail does not end at the Show.

Activities for schools to follow up will be provided, all designed to reinforce agricultural and scientific concepts.

SHOW MEMORIES

SCARED WEIRD LITTLE GUYS
Entertainers

Our parents were republicans, so any reference to the monarchy was forbidden. They did, however, love large public gatherings so each year we'd troop off to the Melbourne Hierarchical Despotism Agricultural Show.

Things have changed since then. The shooting gallery has been changed to a "spot the suspicious package" gallery and the speed of the rotor is regulated by an insurance assessor.

The petting zoo is still the same though. We love the coloured chickens.

Canine superstars

ROYAL MELBOURNE CHAMPIONSHIP DOG SHOW

When: Sept 15-25
Where: Woodfull, Cockbill and Graham Head pavilions and judging rings
Map ref: S11

THE Royal Melbourne Show is a dog-lover's dream. Alaskan malamutes, Jack Russell terriers, dalmatians, old english sheepdogs, beagles, corgis, toy dogs such as pomeranians, and working dogs such as german shepherds (right) are among the hundreds of breeds on show.

All come under the close attention of a judging panel, which includes specialists from Norway, Israel and Canada.

The panel will examine every one of the 4000-plus dogs in order to find the Best in Show.

Talk about a tough contest.

MEET THE BREEDS

THIS is your chance to meet the dogs and their owners.

Each day in the Cockbill Pavilion, a different breed will be on display and you can find out more about your favourite dogs, pat them and talk to their owners about their characteristics and needs.

BEST-DRESSED BENCH

BENCHES where dogs are kept are also judged.

Judges will be looking for presentation, creativity and attention to detail in their quest to find the Best-Dressed Bench.

AGILITY AND JUMPING

IN THE agility and jumping classes dogs and owners have lots of exhausting fun.

Dogs jump over hurdles, through hoops and trigger off see-saws, then sit for an allotted time, all with their breathless owners urging them on.

OBEDIENCE CLASSES

OWNERS instruct their dogs to sit, then they walk away and the dog that sits the longest wins. Some have been known to sit still for 10 minutes.

Scent skills and dogs' relationships with owners are tested. Dogs must find an item that was handled by their owners, and they must decide which of two obstacles to tackle, directed by hand gestures only.

PET DOG CONTEST

SO, YOU'VE always known your pet is a canine superstar waiting to be discovered? Well, now is your chance to show the world just how lovable your dog is by entering the pet dog competition supported by Pedigree and the RSPCA.

Without all the rules and regulations associated with official dog competitions, this one is aimed at the less-refined canine. It's a chance for crossbreeds and mongrels to steal some of the limelight.

Categories include Best-Kept Dog, Best-Mannered Dog and the Dog with the Waggiest Tail.

Enter on the day, until 8.30am, September 25, or request an entry form, ph: 9914 2429 or email dogs@rasv.com.au dance, jump, spin, sit, roll and run to their favourite tunes.

The Superdogs thrive on crowd reaction and these team performers run faster as audiences cheer and clap. Dog trainer Rodney Gosch and agility master Tracey Maney have helped re-form the Superdogs.

The pair will offer Show visitors training advice after each appearance at the Wonderful World of Pets stage and demonstration area.

The Superdog team was chosen from 200 candidates over three weeks of auditioning and have been in training since April.

The Superdogs will be on show every day and will also appear for five days in the dog-judging ring (Map ref R12).

HORSES

When: Sept 15-25
Where: Western Arena and Coca-Cola Arena
Map ref: D3 and J4

HORSE lovers are in for a treat, with judging to take place every day as part of the 150th Show celebrations.

The upgraded Western Arena will host all the usual classes, and major championships and special classes such as the Garryowen Equestrienne Turnout will be judged on the Coca-Cola Arena.

Tradesmen's and delivery horses

IN this section, horse and driver do their best to replicate the original milkman's cart which was a common sight before being replaced by motor vehicles.

Horses are fitted with original harnesses and drivers wear period clothing. They also ensure that their carts are loaded with the proper equipment.

Milkcarts must contain milk vats, ladles and dairy utensils, all ready for inspection and judging.

The horse judging program has been extended across the full 11 days.

In the family: Dylan Bell plays with his family's clydesdales that will be on show. Picture: ROB BAIRD.

Generation game: Bill, Stephen, and Graeme Mahncke

CLYDESDALE IS the ancient name for Lanarkshire, a Scottish town known for its superiority of draught horses.

The clydesdale breed is attributed to those involved in agriculture in the Valley of the Clyde.

Victoria became the centre of clydesdale breeding in Australia after the discovery of gold in the 1850s, which saw the introduction of some of Scotland's best breeding stock.

Clydesdales are entered in led and harness classes at the Show and it is in the harness classes that you can see the stunning four-horse teams.

Bill Mahncke, 64, has been involved with exhibiting his beloved clydesdales since he was a teenager, learning the art from his father.

Four generations of his family have been involved with exhibiting the horses at the Show and usually come home with ribbons.

In honour of Violet

THE GARRYOWEN

When: Sept 16 at 2pm
Where: Coca-Cola Arena
Map ref: J4

THE historic Garryowen is considered the most sought after title of its kind in Australia.

The event is named after champion horse Garryowen, who died in a stable fire at Mentone in 1934.

In a tragic twist, the horse's owner, Violet Murrell, one of Victoria's foremost horsewomen, also died while trying to save the life of her beloved horse.

The Garryowen is open to women only, and horses must be at least 14 hands high. Horse and rider must look good and work well together.

The strict rules mean competition winners are often decided by a fraction of a point.

THE TURNOUT

AS THE name suggests, the Garryowen is a "turnout" event, which means horse and rider appear in their best equipment and clothes, referred to as hunting attire.

Three or four heats with up to 20 riders are held during the day.

The first rider approaches the starting area, dismounts and leads her horse to the costume judge, who checks the spacing between stitches to make sure it is even, confirms that the rider's jacket is handmade and that the black boots are in pristine condition.

There must not be creases on any part of the attire and even sleeve lengths are measured.

The conformation judge then checks that the horse also conforms to certain standards of shape and appearance. Saddlery is then judged, with points taken from a rider if the saddle's leather is not polished and supple or if it sits too tight or too loose on the horse.

Previous winner: Elizabeth Ramsden.

THE WORKOUT

AFTER completion of the first stage of judging, the rider then mounts the horse and begins the traditional riding component.

Beginning with a walk, the horse is taken through a series of trots and canters at various sections of the course.

A rider must not appear to be straining or struggling to keep her horse in check and, with horses that are 14 hands or taller, this can be difficult because they are big and strong. Balance and composition of horse and rider are also important.

Young flight of fancy

ABOUT 400 PIGEONS will be at the Show.

Veteran exhibitor Tom Dobbin (above) says pigeons are inexpensive to keep and great pets for children.

The Victorian Pigeon Society includes many young members, who often beat the adults in competitions.

The Victorian Pigeon Society Junior Perpetual Shield, named in honour of Tom, encourages younger members. Find out if David Sulja can make it three wins in a row when you visit the pigeon competition at the World of Pets on September 23 and 24.

Rabbit on

JUDGE Brian Emmot considers the Show's rabbit competition as one of the best.

Rabbits are among several animals to be judged in the Small Animal Competition.

Go to the World of Pets Pavilion (map ref: E8) to see pigeons on Sept 17-18; rabbits and cavies on Sept 19; rat fanciers on Sept 15-16; and mice on Sept 19-20.

POULTRY AND EGG COMPETITION

When: Sept 15-25
Where: Poultry Pavilion foyer
Map ref: G6

IT IS the Chinese Year of the Rooster and to celebrate the Poultry Pavilion will be adorned with authentic decorations.

To find out who gets decorated with a coveted blue ribbon, visit the Poultry Pavilion on September 17, when roosters and their owners will await the announcement of Best Rooster in Show.

CHOOK-WASHING DEMOS

HAIRDRYERS will be used to dry chicken feathers and their nails will be trimmed and eyebrows plucked.

Visitors will get an explanation of what it takes to prepare a chicken for the Royal Melbourne Show, what judges look for and an appreciation of what makes a blue-ribbon winner.

Daily chook-washing demonstrations by Jim Finger will provide an insight into the poultry world.

And if that isn't enough to entice you, how about a prize for every audience member who helps Jim?

EGG AND POULTRY CONTEST

CHICKENS, geese, ducks and turkeys will compete for honours.

Eggs will be judged, based on shape, size, shell texture and colour. Colour should be even and, in the case of mottled or speckled eggs, "regular mottles or speckles are preferred".

Internal appearance is just as important — yolks should be a "rich bright, golden yellow, free from blood streaks or spots".

The competition is open to backyard chook owners and serious commercial breeders.

FREE-RANGE AREA

CHILDREN and parents can wander with chickens and fowl and pat the birds in a free-range area.

Questions will be answered by stewards and volunteers wearing "Ask me" jackets.

Collect your free feed samples and chook information booklets from the Barastoc Stand.

INCUBATED HATCHERY

ONE of the most popular exhibits in the Poultry Pavilion is the incubated hatchery, where hundreds of chicks break out of their shells during the course of the Show.

See Daily Planner for times.

CATTLE COMPETITION

When: Sept 15-25
Where: Weekly Times Judging Ring
Map ref: G2

SEE HOW you measure up against some of the State's biggest bulls.

Some entrants weigh more than 1000kg, and are almost two metres tall and two metres long.

Giant bulls will be among more than 30 breeds of beef and dairy cattle on show.

Check the judging times and head to the Supreme Interbreed competition, which will determine which bull takes out the top prize.

Other highlights include:

farmers when they appeared among a herd of black Angus cattle in the upper Murray Valley in 1905. The breed has been popular with local producers and its lean marbled beef is a favourite in Japan. Drawings of Salers cattle were discovered by archaeologists near the French town of Salers and date back 7000 years. The breed is considered one of the oldest and purest of all European breeds. Salers breeders are planning festivities to mark 20 years of cattle-showing in Australia.

DAIRY CATTLE

THE Victorian Holstein State Fair will be part of the Show.

Holsteins are the black and white cattle that originated in the Netherlands. The original stock belonged to the Batavians and the Freisians — migrant European tribes that settled in the Rhine Delta region about 2000 years ago.

Today, Holsteins are easily recognised by their markings and outstanding milk production.

CATTLE JUDGING

CATTLE will be judged every day of the Show at the Weekly Times Judging Ring. Listen to judges explain why cattle are deemed the best in their breed.

Schools and colleges are encouraged to take part in the cattle competition.

SHOW MEMORIES

ROD QUANTOCK

Comedian

I went to my first Royal Melbourne Show when I was one month old. One of my first memories is of a delightful magic-stall man and a man who cuts your silhouette. The half-man-half-woman and the headless woman are still vivid in my memory and also some animals, but they all look the same to city folk like me. My best memories are of the showbags. Everything was a tiny sample — miniature lollies and miniature tinned sausages and vegetables. We took them home on the tram and tipped the contents all over the lounge room floor before dividing them up. The Show gave me a life-long appreciation of moleskins and flat Akubra hats.

CAT COMPETITION

When: Sept 16-18; Pat a Cat Sept 19-25
Where: Wonderful World of Pets
Map ref: E8

CAT LOVERS can meet Australia's own breed, the mist, when it takes its place alongside favourites such as the abyssinians, russians, burmese, scottish folds and many more at the Cat Competition on September 17.

And on the competition's other two days, there will be plenty more to see. Siamese, orientals and balinese will feature on September 16. Then more cats — including burmans, persians, exotics, norwegian forest cats and the big maine coon — will be on show on September 18.

The maine coon is so big its cage is twice the size of the others.

Pat a cat and meet different breeds and their owners every other day of the show.

Breeders offer advice about which pet would best suit you.

Or have a chat with Kaye Bond, a life member of the Feline Control Council, who has been involved in running the cat competition at the Royal Melbourne Show for 35 years.

Favourite: the Australian mist.

WHISKAS WONDERFUL WORLD OF CATS

When: Sept 15-25
Where: Wonderful World of Pets
Map ref: E8

DID you know cats almost never meow at other cats, only at humans? Or that burmese are considered the clowns of the cat world?

Learn something new about cats at the Whiskas Wonderful World of Cats exhibit.

Eight breeds and a litter of playful kittens will be on display each day.

If you are looking for a cat, but not sure which one best suits you and your family, the Select-a-Cat Computer Program will help you to understand breeds, their characteristics and nature.

Veterinary nurses will answer questions on health care and nutrition and a resident cat breeder can provide referrals to catteries.

Daily breed parades explore the characteristics of particular cats and their history.

A cat trivia quiz before the breed parades will test your knowledge and reward you with a prize from Whiskas, if you know the answer to this question: What is the name of Bob the Builder's cat?

Run riot: Suri alpacas at a farm in Victoria.

Ewe beauty: alpacas are in

THIS year's feature breed will be alpacas, in the largest gathering of the animal on show to the public.

Two breed types — the huacaya and the suri — will be represented.

Alpaca fibre comes in a range of colours — white, silver, grey, fawn, chocolate brown and black.

But be warned — alpacas have an unusual habit, they spit.

SHEEP, GOATS AND ALPACAS

When: Sheep & goats, Sept 15-20; Alpacas, Sept 23-25
Where: The Rural Finance Pavilion Map ref: G7

THREE types of goats will be the Show — Dairy, Boer and Angora. Boers are bred for meat production and Angora for their prized fleece.

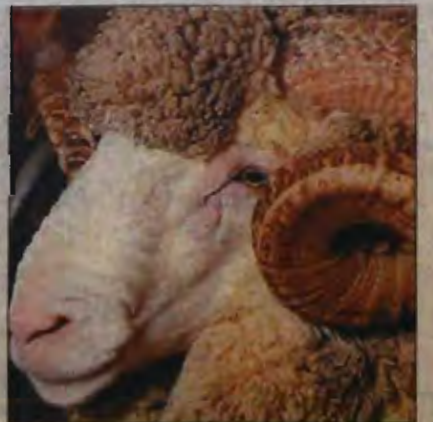

GET SHEEPISH

MORE than 20 sheep breeds will be at the Show.

Long-wool and short-wool varieties will be at the Rural Pavilion as well as fine-wool and coarse-wool types.

Each breed highlights the many commercial uses of sheep.

For instance, some wool is used for carpet and some for clothing.

Sheep walk: a ram on show.

A woodchoppin' first

IT WOULDN'T be the Show without woodchopping, and the event will be one of the first to benefit from the redevelopment of the Showgrounds. Visitors will see old and new events in a new arena.

Traditional competitions, including standing block, underhand, tree felling and hard hitting, will be joined by an Australia v New Zealand under 21 Test series and State of Origin matches.

Woodchopping's big names are back — O'Toole, Gurr and Staib will battle it out for the Golden Axe. And, for the first time, a women's woodchop competition will be held.

Watch women in the underhand event and the double-handed sawing handicap.

For some people, woodchopping runs in the family — such as the Meyer clan, who all chop together. And, for the first time, a broad range of family members can sign up.

Woodchop's future champions can compete in junior competitions — the 9-13 years age group and 13-16 years.

Only time will tell if they have the longevity to compete in the veteran's standing block handicap for the over-60 axe-wielders.

Whatever their age or ability, choppers will be awaiting the familiar call: "Axemen ready — one, two, three."

Twist and shout

Screaming good fun: an old favourite at the show is Chaos, which sends riders into a spinning frenzy and provides an adrenalin rush that is part of the amusement world's rite of passage.

SHOW WEEKLY TIMES

THE GREAT SHOW

TREASURE HUNT

GET YOUR TREASURE HUNT MAP AND HOT PINK REUSABLE BAG AT THE TREASURE HUNT AND INFORMATION BOOTHS AROUND THE SHOWGROUNDS AND FOLLOW THE TRAIL TO SHOW-TIME RICHES.

OVER FORTY DOLLARS OF VALUE FOR ONLY $13

www.royalshow.com.au/treasure

BIGGER, faster and crazier than last year, the Show Carnival is ready to knock your socks off.

Four new rides for seasoned high-speed motion fanatics will be there, with five new rides for the kids as well as old favourites.

So check out the ultimate amusement experience of the latest rides to shake the Showgrounds:

TWIN FLIP

HARD, fast and furious is how Jamie Pickett, the ride's owner, describes this top 10 world-ranked ride making its Australian debut.

If you're a jaded thrill-seeker ready to experience anything, try the extreme somersaulting and spinning action of the Twin Flip.

ENERGY STORM

THIS ride keeps you hanging upside down while carriages spin with intensity. So be prepared to survive the vertigo-inducing revolutions and constant rotations.

F1 EURO SLIDE

TOO lazy to strap yourself in? Then how about a leisurely cruise down a 60m giant slide? But even the slides at the Show aren't for the faint-hearted.

Plan to catch this monster, the biggest in the southern hemisphere, at its Australian debut.

DODGEMS, DUDES

IN ANOTHER first for the Show, the biggest dodgem track in the southern hemisphere will be up and running with up to 36 cars on the track at any time.

It's non-stop bumper action. Climb aboard, put the pedal to the metal and line up your mates. With 36 cars to choose from, you're bound to bump someone.

OLD FAVOURITES

TRADITIONAL crowd pleasers are ready to swing, shake, twist and hurl new generations of showgoers through the air. Techno

Jump, Cliffhanger, Claw, Hard Rock, Crazy Mouse, Taipan, Breakdance and Scorpion are back. The Gravitron, Chaos, Hang-over and Kamikaze will also provide the adrenalin rush that is part of the amusement world's rite of passage.

KIDS' CARNIVAL

FIVE top children's rides will provide plenty of excitement. They are Little Hog Harley Rides, the Jump Around, Bumper Boats, Fantasy Island and Magic Swans.

AFTER DARK

DAZZLING lights, colours and sounds add a magical atmosphere in the Carnival precinct at night.

The views across the Showgrounds from the ferris wheel are spectacular, and if you are lucky enough to be on the top as the fireworks display begins, you'll have the best seat in the house.
